of gastronomy

Honored with the title of Creative City of Gastronomy, Belo Horizonte has shared culinary values since before its founding. Created by the confluence of those passing through Minas, those who go and those who stay, the city is the synthesis of the blended flavors of this land. BH is for eating.

There are many origins of traditional mineiro products. This geographic diversity is reflected in the way of making and preparing what can be found in this capital city. A true gastronomic treasure in the hands of those who love serving.

The nobility of simple flavors

Designed by a trio of irresistible products, the paths of Minas bring the delicacies produced throughout the territory to Belo Horizonte. Through the hands that reap crops, run stills and cheese factories, the capital's cuisine is built and issues the calling: come here and see what we have!

TYPICAL PRODUCTS

The best cheeses in the world have taken up permanent residency in BH

Minas Gerais producers hold awards that consolidate the state as the land of cheese. More importantly than this, these hands preserve rare techniques, considered intangible cultural heritage of Brazil. The ways are so rich and plural that, to accommodate them accordingly, Belo Horizonte created the Artesanal Cheese Reference Center (CRQA). For the insiders, the cheese house. If the best are in the State, at the Center, they come to exchange their excellence. Visit CRQA, try a few slices and... well, it will be a pleasure to have you back later.

Welcome, come on in. How about a cup of coffee?

The ritual of serving the best coffee in the house to those who visit is inseparable from Minas Gerais' famous hospitality. And you can believe there's good coffee to be served! After much conversation, the smell takes over the city and all that's left is to wait for the next fresh serving to come out.

In any restaurant, in any bar, in any home, what we know is the following: coffee is forthcoming, right now. Not by chance, the best beans and the best greetings are from here. Come on in! Do you want coffee?!

From the still to the table, a brazilian experience from Minas Gerais

Minas is the largest producer of artisanal cachaça in the country and Belo Horizonte is where the richest examples of this universe under construction are concentrated.

Time, care and patience are the fermenters of the bottles called to the table, which await the calm procession of their tasters. Thanks to the mineiro and his uncompromising pleasure, good food is present in the national culinary tradition. After a dose, everything becomes more ours, everything is more familiar.

Liver with Scarlet Eggplant

KAOL

TYPICAL DISHES

500g sour cassava starch
 400g sweet cassava starch
 500g grated half-cured Minas cheese
 1 cup lard or oil (240 ml)
 1 cup milk (240 ml)
 4 eggs
 1 cup water (240 ml)
 1 tablespoon salt

1 Preheat oven. 2 Mix milk + water + lard. Stir until almost boiling. 3 In a bowl, place the cassava starch + salt and mix well. Gradually add hot milk. 4 Did the dough cool down? Add cheese and eggs. Mix. 5 With your hands, form the cheese bread balls. Bake for 20 to 30 minutes. Did it grow and brown? Just try it!

500g beans
300g bacon
1 kg pork
12 eggs
1 yellow bell pepper
1 kg tomatoes
2 onions
2 garlic cloves
1 level spoon salt
2 cups cassava flour

- 1 Cook the beans in the pressure cooker. Remove while still cooked and drain.
- 2 In a large pan, place bacon and fry. Set aside.
- 3 In the same pan, sauté the chopped meat and garlic clove in the bacon fat. Brown and set aside.
- 4 Remove seeds from bell pepper and tomato. Dice and drain.
- 5 In the same pan, add another garlic clove and sauté with grated onion. Brown.
- 6 Add beans and stir slowly. Add meat + bacon + bell pepper + tomatoes. Slowly add salt and flour.
- 7 Break eggs onto a plate and fry in another pan. Stir and, once ready, mix half in beans and other half, finish on top of the recipe.

500g liver
 5 jilós
 1 onion
 2 cloves garlic
 green bell pepper
 salt (to taste)
 olive oil

1 In a pan or deep frying pan, drizzle olive oil. 2 Lightly brown onion and add liver, chopped into strips. Stir well, add salt and stir again. 3 Add drops of water to avoid burning the bottom of pan. Cover with lid for a moment and then 4 finish sealing with green onion + parsley. Set aside. In the same pan, 5 sauté sliced jiló with the garlic cloves + another half of chopped onion 6 Over low heat, add liver. Stir quickly and add black pepper to taste. The classic is ready!

1. COOK KALE for 3 minutes.

2. COOK SAUSAGE for 20 minutes

3. BRAISE FINELY CHOPPED ONION & GARLIC.

400 fresh pork sausage
4 kale leaves
1 onion
3 cloves garlic
1 dose cachaça
3 seedless tomatoes
salt and pepper
green onion and parsley
olive oil
2 eggs

- 1 Place kale leaves in a pan of boiling water and cook for 3 minutes. Cool in ice water, cut into strips and set aside.
- 2 In the kale water, cook the sausage for 20 minutes. Check if ready and set aside.
- 3 In another pan, sauté the finely chopped onion and garlic. Sauté and add the sausage chopped into large pieces.
- 4 Season with salt and pepper and gradually add the dose of cachaça. Wait for it to brown over low heat and don't let the bottom burn. Remove only the sausage and set aside.
- 5 In the same pan, add chopped tomatoes. Add water and reduce the heat to reach a sauce consistency. Add the green onion + parsley and mix.
- 6 In different pans, fry eggs and make rice.
- 7 On the plate, serve: rice + egg + sausage + kale. The sauce should be served over the sausage, very hot.

CENTRAL

The third best market in the world, Mercado Central houses in its corridors almost 100 years of history, intertwined with that of the city itself. FOOD CORRIDORS

Food, rhythm and people

In its first urban design, Belo Horizonte was concentrated within the limits of Avenida do Contorno (Contorno Avenue). At the heart of this perimeter is the city center, a place where everyone passes by and everyone stops to taste the different culinary spread across the region. Here, you have it all: from the classic cheese bread with coffee to oven-baked meals and generous over-the-counter served dishes. Downtown, everyone fits in, savoring much and experiencing life in Belo Horizonte. Shall we go downtown?
